Dear Rabbi Wise:

Mazal Tov! It is with great pleasure that I write to you upon the occasion of the honor being tendered to you by Adath Israel Congregation recognizing ten years of devoted leadership. From reading your congregation's bulletin and speaking to so many of your congregants over the past decade, I know of the significant impact that you have made on Adath Israel Congregation and on the general Cincinnati Community.

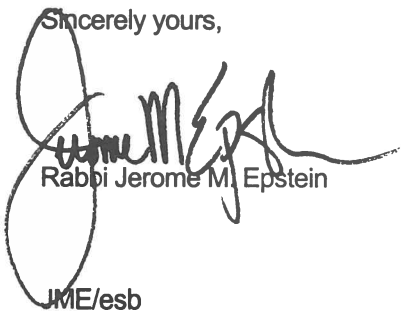

Your commitment to the education of your congregants has truly enriched their lives. Your dedication to Jewish education for youth and adults has helped to ensure greater appreciation of both our heritage and its sacred texts. An entire generation of men, women and children has a stronger Jewish commitment because of your involvement in their lives. They are continually shaped by the way in which you translate the values of Judaism into meaningful guides for their everyday living.

Chief Executive Officer*

Celebrations of milestones are important, permitting us to acknowledge the past and appreciate the present. But, even more important, they challenge us to utilize our achievements to focus on the future. It is my fervent hope that as you mark this important milestone in your service to Adath Israel Congregation, you will be blessed with renewed zeal to continue to strengthen Jewish life in your congregation and in the Cincinnati Community.

Sincerely yours,

Rabbi Jerome M. Epstein
